

COVID-19 UPDATE

Due to the pandemic, we are taking the appropriate precautions for our guests, our employees and our community. Our Woodinville tasting rooms are closed to the public for now. We encourage our guests to continue supporting local and small businesses in the ways that are available and allowed by law, like our convenient curbside pickup at our new location in Woodinville at the former Redhook Brewery, now called Hollywood Station, and online orders that we can ship directly to your home.
